

DRAMATIC SCENE IN BARKER-KELLER TRIAL WHEN CLERGYMAN ENTERED COURT

When the Rev. Mr. Keller was led into the courtroom, Barker, the accused, shot at him a look of intense hatred. His fingers clutched convulsively at the table, and his lower jaw was far extended, pressing his lips tightly shut, and causing his face for a moment to take on an ugly expression. Like a flash this expression passed from Barker's face, and as he regained his composure he gazed toward his wife, who sat beside him, and smiled. She smiled in return.

MRS. THOMAS G. BARKER.

THOMAS G. BARKER.

ment of Mrs. Barker made to her lawyers a day or two after the trial which statement was in every material respect identical with that which she had made to Miss Germond, a friend, before the shooting.

Miss Germond Says

Miss Germond today re-read Mrs. Barker's statement in the presence of a Post-Dispatch reporter, and pronounced it as the latter and the spirit the same that the unfortunate woman poured into her ears while suffering from the agony of her husband's sorrow and her own ruined life.

There could be no question of premeditation in the story as she told it to me. It was the natural utterance of a woman under the strain of the awful suffering she had caused her husband. It came out bit by bit during the time spent in the courtroom. Her mind craved relief under its burden, and she extended her confidence to me.

Mrs. Barker's story, as related on the witness stand yesterday, was by reason of repeated interruptions, and legal objections, a very disjointed and inconclusive narrative. In view of the statement which she had previously given to the press, however, great interest and importance attached to her testimony.

Question after question was asked and promptly refused by the court, all done with evident intent to get before the jury an inkling of the alleged assault. Mrs. Barker made an excellent witness, and most trying circumstances. She appreciated the gravity of her husband's position and her part in placing him there. Her alertness was shown at critical points when she was testifying.

"What was the reason of your ceasing your attendance at the Trinity mission?" "Because of Mr. Keller's attitude toward me."

The prosecutor: I object to the last question and answer and ask that they be stricken out.

The court: The objection came after the answer and I will allow it to stand.

The stenographer being in doubt as to whether he heard the word "attitude," asked Van Winkle, Barker's lawyer, what the answer was, and Van Winkle said the answer was "attitude."

Because of Mr. Keller's attitude toward me," the stenographer understood the word "attitude" was used.

There was a pause, a dead silence in the court, as the vital import of the controversy became apparent. All eyes were turned on Mrs. Barker, who said slowly and distinctly, "I did not use the word 'attitude,' I said because of Mr. Keller's attitude toward me."

She was not permitted to testify further along that line, but she had driven home the word that was calculated to burn deep into the minds of the jurymen.

Keller Attracts Utmost Attention. The arrival of Mr. Keller at court each day attracts the utmost attention. Each morning as the clock strikes 10 he comes forward with faltering steps. A young man walks beside and just behind him, holding the clergyman's elbow to guide him.

The minister has not yet acquired the confidence of the blind, as his affliction is of too recent origin. He hesitates painfully as he advances, with arms partly folded so as to keep his body to meet any possible obstacles.

His asetic face is shaded by enormous blue spectacles, one glass resting on the left eye, which is almost useless. A little tie of cotton, white, glass, resting on the left cheekbone shows the spot from which the bullet was fired.

Mr. Keller is portly, fair bearded and light haired and must have been of powerful physique before a bullet was sent through his head and another shattered the frame of his right hand.

Barker is a strong-looking man, brown as a berry, with hair and mustache and eyes all dark. There is a play of activity in his movements and a coming and going of color in his cheeks that speak of quickly fired passions.

When he looks at his wife the expression tells of love and faith. When he was asked to say something on the eve of his trial he said what he has often said before. He declares that he was not sorry for what he had done. He said that he believed any husband, under the same circumstances, would have done the same thing. He had no regret. He could have none. He would never have any, he asserted to those who questioned him.

On the opening day of the trial a most dramatic scene was enacted. When Mr. Keller was led into the courtroom Barker shot at him a look of intense hatred. His fingers clutched convulsively at the table, and his lower jaw was far extended, pressing his lips tightly shut, and causing his face for a moment to take on an ugly expression. Like a flash this expression passed from Barker's face, and as he regained his composure he gazed toward his wife, who sat beside him, and smiled. She smiled in return.

Since that time, however, the look upon Barker's countenance has changed to one of pity.

Mrs. Barker's Words Discussed in Court. All the parties to the case were in court in Jersey City promptly today. Previous to the resumption of the trial of Thomas G. Barker for the shooting of the Rev. John Keller there was a whispered conference between Judge Blair and the lawyers in the case, the subject of which was understood to be the publication in several papers of this city and New Jersey of what purported to be a sworn statement of the justification of the circumstances of the alleged assault upon her by Mr. Keller April 15, 1929, and which constituted the basis of the prosecution for the attempt upon Keller's life in February of this year.

REV. JOHN KELLER.

ing that the published story of Mrs. Barker had been brought to his attention and he hoped the court would take such action as it deemed wise in the matter. The county prosecutor said to make public such a statement at such a time was a violation of the line of conduct that had been laid down by the courts in such cases as the one pending.

Mr. Van Winkle, counsel for Barker, replied that so far as any contempt was concerned the press might be disciplined as the court pleased. Mrs. Barker, he said, had many friends. She was not on trial and her friends had the right to publish anything they saw fit. Personally, he and his partner, Mr. Wall, and Mr. Barker had nothing to do with the publication. The court said he would talk to the jury when the proper time came. He continued:

"There can be no doubt of the motive of the publication at this time, as the court will make a rigid investigation of this reprehensible act at the proper time, and it will be thorough."

Mrs. Louise Germond, with whom Mrs. Barker has been living ever since the shooting, was the first witness called today. Miss Germond said she had seen Mr. Barker every day while he lived in her house for two weeks before the shooting. He appeared much worried and could not read. After Robert Warner and Frank H. Bender, superintendent of the cable company, had testified that they knew Barker as a quiet and peaceable man, Lawyer Van Winkle called Mrs. Barker to the stand.

The Rev. Mr. Keller was called to the stand in rebuttal. He said that on the morning of the shooting he passed along the east side of Beach street, Arlington, he did not see Barker or say to him "good morning."

This was objected to by the defense, but the court overruled the objection. Mr. Keller then testified that he had seen Barker before he was shot or that Barker had said to him: "You are a villain; you outraged my wife."

"I then said, 'Here is your water,' and he started to walk toward the dining room. Mr. Keller then said he did not want the water, he wanted me. We were then in the dining room."

He took hold of me and tried to kiss me. I struggled to prevent him, I slapped his face. This angered him and he dropped into a chair and pulled me down beside him. He told me that I resembled his dead sister, Mrs. Keller, and which has been drawn up and signed by Mrs. Barker, is as follows:

Mr. Keller called at my house during the latter part of the month of April, 1929, and asked me to go with him for a ride on my wheel to Paterson. I refused to go. Two or three days after this conversation, on April 15, 1929, Mr. Keller called at my house. I greeted him cordially, as I felt offended at his suggestion of a few days previous that we take a ride together to Paterson.

As soon as he got into the house he asked me for a drink of water, stating that he was very tired, having just come from the bishop's. I started toward the kitchen to get him water when he exclaimed: "Haven't you got anything stronger than water in the house?"

I said "No" and continued toward the kitchen. Mr. Keller following me. He went to the back door of the kitchen and opened it slightly and looked around, and finally closed and locked it, saying that I should always keep the back door locked when in the house alone. Just then the dog passed between us and he kicked it.

I then said, "Here is your water," and he started to walk toward the dining room. Mr. Keller then said he did not want the water, he wanted me. We were then in the dining room."

He took hold of me and tried to kiss me. I struggled to prevent him, I slapped his face. This angered him and he dropped into a chair and pulled me down beside him. He told me that I resembled his dead sister, Mrs. Keller, and which has been drawn up and signed by Mrs. Barker, is as follows:

Mr. Keller called at my house during the latter part of the month of April, 1929, and asked me to go with him for a ride on my wheel to Paterson. I refused to go. Two or three days after this conversation, on April 15, 1929, Mr. Keller called at my house. I greeted him cordially, as I felt offended at his suggestion of a few days previous that we take a ride together to Paterson.

As soon as he got into the house he asked me for a drink of water, stating that he was very tired, having just come from the bishop's. I started toward the kitchen to get him water when he exclaimed: "Haven't you got anything stronger than water in the house?"

I said "No" and continued toward the kitchen. Mr. Keller following me. He went to the back door of the kitchen and opened it slightly and looked around, and finally closed and locked it, saying that I should always keep the back door locked when in the house alone. Just then the dog passed between us and he kicked it.

I then said, "Here is your water," and he started to walk toward the dining room. Mr. Keller then said he did not want the water, he wanted me. We were then in the dining room."

He took hold of me and tried to kiss me. I struggled to prevent him, I slapped his face. This angered him and he dropped into a chair and pulled me down beside him. He told me that I resembled his dead sister, Mrs. Keller, and which has been drawn up and signed by Mrs. Barker, is as follows:

Mr. Keller called at my house during the latter part of the month of April, 1929, and asked me to go with him for a ride on my wheel to Paterson. I refused to go. Two or three days after this conversation, on April 15, 1929, Mr. Keller called at my house. I greeted him cordially, as I felt offended at his suggestion of a few days previous that we take a ride together to Paterson.

As soon as he got into the house he asked me for a drink of water, stating that he was very tired, having just come from the bishop's. I started toward the kitchen to get him water when he exclaimed: "Haven't you got anything stronger than water in the house?"

I said "No" and continued toward the kitchen. Mr. Keller following me. He went to the back door of the kitchen and opened it slightly and looked around, and finally closed and locked it, saying that I should always keep the back door locked when in the house alone. Just then the dog passed between us and he kicked it.

I then said, "Here is your water," and he started to walk toward the dining room. Mr. Keller then said he did not want the water, he wanted me. We were then in the dining room."

He took hold of me and tried to kiss me. I struggled to prevent him, I slapped his face. This angered him and he dropped into a chair and pulled me down beside him. He told me that I resembled his dead sister, Mrs. Keller, and which has been drawn up and signed by Mrs. Barker, is as follows:

Mr. Keller called at my house during the latter part of the month of April, 1929, and asked me to go with him for a ride on my wheel to Paterson. I refused to go. Two or three days after this conversation, on April 15, 1929, Mr. Keller called at my house. I greeted him cordially, as I felt offended at his suggestion of a few days previous that we take a ride together to Paterson.

As soon as he got into the house he asked me for a drink of water, stating that he was very tired, having just come from the bishop's. I started toward the kitchen to get him water when he exclaimed: "Haven't you got anything stronger than water in the house?"

I said "No" and continued toward the kitchen. Mr. Keller following me. He went to the back door of the kitchen and opened it slightly and looked around, and finally closed and locked it, saying that I should always keep the back door locked when in the house alone. Just then the dog passed between us and he kicked it.

I then said, "Here is your water," and he started to walk toward the dining room. Mr. Keller then said he did not want the water, he wanted me. We were then in the dining room."

He took hold of me and tried to kiss me. I struggled to prevent him, I slapped his face. This angered him and he dropped into a chair and pulled me down beside him. He told me that I resembled his dead sister, Mrs. Keller, and which has been drawn up and signed by Mrs. Barker, is as follows:

Mr. Keller called at my house during the latter part of the month of April, 1929, and asked me to go with him for a ride on my wheel to Paterson. I refused to go. Two or three days after this conversation, on April 15, 1929, Mr. Keller called at my house. I greeted him cordially, as I felt offended at his suggestion of a few days previous that we take a ride together to Paterson.

As soon as he got into the house he asked me for a drink of water, stating that he was very tired, having just come from the bishop's. I started toward the kitchen to get him water when he exclaimed: "Haven't you got anything stronger than water in the house?"

I said "No" and continued toward the kitchen. Mr. Keller following me. He went to the back door of the kitchen and opened it slightly and looked around, and finally closed and locked it, saying that I should always keep the back door locked when in the house alone. Just then the dog passed between us and he kicked it.

I then said, "Here is your water," and he started to walk toward the dining room. Mr. Keller then said he did not want the water, he wanted me. We were then in the dining room."

He took hold of me and tried to kiss me. I struggled to prevent him, I slapped his face. This angered him and he dropped into a chair and pulled me down beside him. He told me that I resembled his dead sister, Mrs. Keller, and which has been drawn up and signed by Mrs. Barker, is as follows:

Mr. Keller called at my house during the latter part of the month of April, 1929, and asked me to go with him for a ride on my wheel to Paterson. I refused to go. Two or three days after this conversation, on April 15, 1929, Mr. Keller called at my house. I greeted him cordially, as I felt offended at his suggestion of a few days previous that we take a ride together to Paterson.

As soon as he got into the house he asked me for a drink of water, stating that he was very tired, having just come from the bishop's. I started toward the kitchen to get him water when he exclaimed: "Haven't you got anything stronger than water in the house?"

I said "No" and continued toward the kitchen. Mr. Keller following me. He went to the back door of the kitchen and opened it slightly and looked around, and finally closed and locked it, saying that I should always keep the back door locked when in the house alone. Just then the dog passed between us and he kicked it.

I then said, "Here is your water," and he started to walk toward the dining room. Mr. Keller then said he did not want the water, he wanted me. We were then in the dining room."

He took hold of me and tried to kiss me. I struggled to prevent him, I slapped his face. This angered him and he dropped into a chair and pulled me down beside him. He told me that I resembled his dead sister, Mrs. Keller, and which has been drawn up and signed by Mrs. Barker, is as follows:

Mr. Keller called at my house during the latter part of the month of April, 1929, and asked me to go with him for a ride on my wheel to Paterson. I refused to go. Two or three days after this conversation, on April 15, 1929, Mr. Keller called at my house. I greeted him cordially, as I felt offended at his suggestion of a few days previous that we take a ride together to Paterson.

As soon as he got into the house he asked me for a drink of water, stating that he was very tired, having just come from the bishop's. I started toward the kitchen to get him water when he exclaimed: "Haven't you got anything stronger than water in the house?"

I said "No" and continued toward the kitchen. Mr. Keller following me. He went to the back door of the kitchen and opened it slightly and looked around, and finally closed and locked it, saying that I should always keep the back door locked when in the house alone. Just then the dog passed between us and he kicked it.

I then said, "Here is your water," and he started to walk toward the dining room. Mr. Keller then said he did not want the water, he wanted me. We were then in the dining room."

He took hold of me and tried to kiss me. I struggled to prevent him, I slapped his face. This angered him and he dropped into a chair and pulled me down beside him. He told me that I resembled his dead sister, Mrs. Keller, and which has been drawn up and signed by Mrs. Barker, is as follows:

Mr. Keller called at my house during the latter part of the month of April, 1929, and asked me to go with him for a ride on my wheel to Paterson. I refused to go. Two or three days after this conversation, on April 15, 1929, Mr. Keller called at my house. I greeted him cordially, as I felt offended at his suggestion of a few days previous that we take a ride together to Paterson.

As soon as he got into the house he asked me for a drink of water, stating that he was very tired, having just come from the bishop's. I started toward the kitchen to get him water when he exclaimed: "Haven't you got anything stronger than water in the house?"

I said "No" and continued toward the kitchen. Mr. Keller following me. He went to the back door of the kitchen and opened it slightly and looked around, and finally closed and locked it, saying that I should always keep the back door locked when in the house alone. Just then the dog passed between us and he kicked it.

I then said, "Here is your water," and he started to walk toward the dining room. Mr. Keller then said he did not want the water, he wanted me. We were then in the dining room."

He took hold of me and tried to kiss me. I struggled to prevent him, I slapped his face. This angered him and he dropped into a chair and pulled me down beside him. He told me that I resembled his dead sister, Mrs. Keller, and which has been drawn up and signed by Mrs. Barker, is as follows:

Mr. Keller called at my house during the latter part of the month of April, 1929, and asked me to go with him for a ride on my wheel to Paterson. I refused to go. Two or three days after this conversation, on April 15, 1929, Mr. Keller called at my house. I greeted him cordially, as I felt offended at his suggestion of a few days previous that we take a ride together to Paterson.

As soon as he got into the house he asked me for a drink of water, stating that he was very tired, having just come from the bishop's. I started toward the kitchen to get him water when he exclaimed: "Haven't you got anything stronger than water in the house?"

I said "No" and continued toward the kitchen. Mr. Keller following me. He went to the back door of the kitchen and opened it slightly and looked around, and finally closed and locked it, saying that I should always keep the back door locked when in the house alone. Just then the dog passed between us and he kicked it.

I then said, "Here is your water," and he started to walk toward the dining room. Mr. Keller then said he did not want the water, he wanted me. We were then in the dining room."

He took hold of me and tried to kiss me. I struggled to prevent him, I slapped his face. This angered him and he dropped into a chair and pulled me down beside him. He told me that I resembled his dead sister, Mrs. Keller, and which has been drawn up and signed by Mrs. Barker, is as follows:

Mr. Keller called at my house during the latter part of the month of April, 1929, and asked me to go with him for a ride on my wheel to Paterson. I refused to go. Two or three days after this conversation, on April 15, 1929, Mr. Keller called at my house. I greeted him cordially, as I felt offended at his suggestion of a few days previous that we take a ride together to Paterson.

As soon as he got into the house he asked me for a drink of water, stating that he was very tired, having just come from the bishop's. I started toward the kitchen to get him water when he exclaimed: "Haven't you got anything stronger than water in the house?"

I said "No" and continued toward the kitchen. Mr. Keller following me. He went to the back door of the kitchen and opened it slightly and looked around, and finally closed and locked it, saying that I should always keep the back door locked when in the house alone. Just then the dog passed between us and he kicked it.

I then said, "Here is your water," and he started to walk toward the dining room. Mr. Keller then said he did not want the water, he wanted me. We were then in the dining room."

He took hold of me and tried to kiss me. I struggled to prevent him, I slapped his face. This angered him and he dropped into a chair and pulled me down beside him. He told me that I resembled his dead sister, Mrs. Keller, and which has been drawn up and signed by Mrs. Barker, is as follows:

Mr. Keller called at my house during the latter part of the month of April, 1929, and asked me to go with him for a ride on my wheel to Paterson. I refused to go. Two or three days after this conversation, on April 15, 1929, Mr. Keller called at my house. I greeted him cordially, as I felt offended at his suggestion of a few days previous that we take a ride together to Paterson.

As soon as he got into the house he asked me for a drink of water, stating that he was very tired, having just come from the bishop's. I started toward the kitchen to get him water when he exclaimed: "Haven't you got anything stronger than water in the house?"

I said "No" and continued toward the kitchen. Mr. Keller following me. He went to the back door of the kitchen and opened it slightly and looked around, and finally closed and locked it, saying that I should always keep the back door locked when in the house alone. Just then the dog passed between us and he kicked it.

I then said, "Here is your water," and he started to walk toward the dining room. Mr. Keller then said he did not want the water, he wanted me. We were then in the dining room."

He took hold of me and tried to kiss me. I struggled to prevent him, I slapped his face. This angered him and he dropped into a chair and pulled me down beside him. He told me that I resembled his dead sister, Mrs. Keller, and which has been drawn up and signed by Mrs. Barker, is as follows:

Mr. Keller called at my house during the latter part of the month of April, 1929, and asked me to go with him for a ride on my wheel to Paterson. I refused to go. Two or three days after this conversation, on April 15, 1929, Mr. Keller called at my house. I greeted him cordially, as I felt offended at his suggestion of a few days previous that we take a ride together to Paterson.

As soon as he got into the house he asked me for a drink of water, stating that he was very tired, having just come from the bishop's. I started toward the kitchen to get him water when he exclaimed: "Haven't you got anything stronger than water in the house?"

I said "No" and continued toward the kitchen. Mr. Keller following me. He went to the back door of the kitchen and opened it slightly and looked around, and finally closed and locked it, saying that I should always keep the back door locked when in the house alone. Just then the dog passed between us and he kicked it.

I then said, "Here is your water," and he started to walk toward the dining room. Mr. Keller then said he did not want the water, he wanted me. We were then in the dining room."

He took hold of me and tried to kiss me. I struggled to prevent him, I slapped his face. This angered him and he dropped into a chair and pulled me down beside him. He told me that I resembled his dead sister, Mrs. Keller, and which has been drawn up and signed by Mrs. Barker, is as follows:

Mr. Keller called at my house during the latter part of the month of April, 1929, and asked me to go with him for a ride on my wheel to Paterson. I refused to go. Two or three days after this conversation, on April 15, 1929, Mr. Keller called at my house. I greeted him cordially, as I felt offended at his suggestion of a few days previous that we take a ride together to Paterson.

As soon as he got into the house he asked me for a drink of water, stating that he was very tired, having just come from the bishop's. I started toward the kitchen to get him water when he exclaimed: "Haven't you got anything stronger than water in the house?"

I said "No" and continued toward the kitchen. Mr. Keller following me. He went to the back door of the kitchen and opened it slightly and looked around, and finally closed and locked it, saying that I should always keep the back door locked when in the house alone. Just then the dog passed between us and he kicked it.

I then said, "Here is your water," and he started to walk toward the dining room. Mr. Keller then said he did not want the water, he wanted me. We were then in the dining room."

He took hold of me and tried to kiss me. I struggled to prevent him, I slapped his face. This angered him and he dropped into a chair and pulled me down beside him. He told me that I resembled his dead sister, Mrs. Keller, and which has been drawn up and signed by Mrs. Barker, is as follows:

Mr. Keller called at my house during the latter part of the month of April, 1929, and asked me to go with him for a ride on my wheel to Paterson. I refused to go. Two or three days after this conversation, on April 15, 1929, Mr. Keller called at my house. I greeted him cordially, as I felt offended at his suggestion of a few days previous that we take a ride together to Paterson.

As soon as he got into the house he asked me for a drink of water, stating that he was very tired, having just come from the bishop's. I started toward the kitchen to get him water when he exclaimed: "Haven't you got anything stronger than water in the house?"

I said "No" and continued toward the kitchen. Mr. Keller following me. He went to the back door of the kitchen and opened it slightly and looked around, and finally closed and locked it, saying that I should always keep the back door locked when in the house alone. Just then the dog passed between us and he kicked it.

I then said, "Here is your water," and he started to walk toward the dining room. Mr. Keller then said he did not want the water, he wanted me. We were then in the dining room."

He took hold of me and tried to kiss me. I struggled to prevent him, I slapped his face. This angered him and he dropped into a chair and pulled me down beside him. He told me that I resembled his dead sister, Mrs. Keller, and which has been drawn up and signed by Mrs. Barker, is as follows:

Mr. Keller called at my house during the latter part of the month of April, 1929, and asked me to go with him for a ride on my wheel to Paterson. I refused to go. Two or three days after this conversation, on April 15, 1929, Mr. Keller called at my house. I greeted him cordially, as I felt offended at his suggestion of a few days previous that we take a ride together to Paterson.

As soon as he got into the house he asked me for a drink of water, stating that he was very tired, having just come from the bishop's. I started toward the kitchen to get him water when he exclaimed: "Haven't you got anything stronger than water in the house?"

I said "No" and continued toward the kitchen. Mr. Keller following me. He went to the back door of the kitchen and opened it slightly and looked around, and finally closed and locked it, saying that I should always keep the back door locked when in the house alone. Just then the dog passed between us and he kicked it.

I then said, "Here is your water," and he started to walk toward the dining room. Mr. Keller then said he did not want the water, he wanted me. We were then in the dining room."

He took hold of me and tried to kiss me. I struggled to prevent him, I slapped his face. This angered him and he dropped into a chair and pulled me down beside him. He told me that I resembled his dead sister, Mrs. Keller, and which has been drawn up and signed by Mrs. Barker, is as follows:

Mr. Keller called at my house during the latter part of the month of April, 1929, and asked me to go with him for a ride on my wheel to Paterson. I refused to go. Two or three days after this conversation, on April 15, 1929, Mr. Keller called at my house. I greeted him cordially, as I felt offended at his suggestion of a few days previous that we take a ride together to Paterson.

As soon as he got into the house he asked me for a drink of water, stating that he was very tired, having just come from the bishop's. I started toward the kitchen to get him water when he exclaimed: "Haven't you got anything stronger than water in the house?"

I said "No" and continued toward the kitchen. Mr. Keller following me. He went to the back door of the kitchen and opened it slightly and looked around, and finally closed and locked it, saying that I should always keep the back door locked when in the house alone. Just then the dog passed between us and he kicked it.

I then said, "Here is your water," and he started to walk toward the dining room. Mr. Keller then said he did not want the water, he wanted me. We were then in the dining room."

He took hold of me and tried to kiss me. I struggled to prevent him, I slapped his face. This angered him and he dropped into a chair and pulled me down beside him. He told me that I resembled his dead sister, Mrs. Keller, and which has been drawn up and signed by Mrs. Barker, is as follows:

Mr. Keller called at my house during the latter part of the month of April, 1929, and asked me to go with him for a ride on my wheel to Paterson. I refused to go. Two or three days after this conversation, on April 15, 1929, Mr. Keller called at my house. I greeted him cordially, as I felt offended at his suggestion of a few days previous that we take a ride together to Paterson.

As soon as he got into the house he asked me for a drink of water, stating that he was very tired, having just come from the bishop's. I started toward the kitchen to get him water when he exclaimed: "Haven't you got anything stronger than water in the house?"

I said "No" and continued toward the kitchen. Mr. Keller following me. He went to the back door of the kitchen and opened it slightly and looked around, and finally closed and locked it, saying that I should always keep the back door locked when in the house alone. Just then the dog passed between us and he kicked it.

I then said, "Here is your water," and he started to walk toward the dining room. Mr. Keller then said he did not want the water, he wanted me. We were then in the dining room."

He took hold of me and tried to kiss me. I struggled to prevent him, I slapped his face. This angered him and he dropped into a chair and pulled me down beside him. He told me that I resembled his dead sister, Mrs. Keller, and which has been drawn up and signed by Mrs. Barker, is as follows:

Mr. Keller called at my house during the latter part of the month of April, 1929, and asked me to go with him for a ride on my wheel to Paterson. I refused to go. Two or three days after this conversation, on April 15, 1929, Mr. Keller called at my house. I greeted him cordially, as I felt offended at his suggestion of a few days previous that we take a ride together to Paterson.

As soon as he got into the house he asked me for a drink of water, stating that he was very tired, having just come from the bishop's. I started toward the kitchen to get him water when he exclaimed: "Haven't you got anything stronger than water in the house?"

I said "No" and continued toward the kitchen. Mr. Keller following me. He went to the back door of the kitchen and opened it slightly and looked around, and finally closed and locked it, saying that I should always keep the back door locked when in the house alone. Just then the dog passed between us and he kicked it.

I then said, "Here is your water," and he started to walk toward the dining room. Mr. Keller then said he did not want the water, he wanted me. We were then in the dining room."

He took hold of me and tried to kiss me. I struggled to prevent him, I slapped his face. This angered him and he dropped into a chair and pulled me down beside him. He told me that I resembled his dead sister, Mrs. Keller, and which has been drawn up and signed by Mrs. Barker, is as follows:

Mr. Keller called at my house during the latter part of the month of April, 1929, and asked me to go with him for a ride on my wheel to Paterson. I refused to go. Two or three days after this conversation, on April 15, 1929, Mr. Keller called at my house.

TWO NEGROES WERE LYNCHED

Supposed to Have Helped Murder John Foster.

ACCOMPLICES OF EDWARDS

PROPHET SMITH AND F. D.
McLAND HANGED BY MOB.

Taken From the Jail in an Orderly
Manner and Quickly Put to Death
—They Deny That There Is Any Conspiracy.

NEW ORLEANS, June 20.—Prince Edward, wanted for the murder of John Gray Foster, is still at large, but two of his accessories have passed to the great beyond with the assistance of a mob. If caught, Edwards will share the same fate. Frank, better known as "Prophet" Smith, and F. D. McLand, colored, were lynched by a mob in Bossier Parish last night. The lynching occurred shortly before 12 o'clock, about a mile and a half from the Benton jail. It is said to have been a very orderly proceeding, not a single loud cry being raised nor a single shot fired. Both negroes made statements before being strung up. It was 11:45 o'clock when the ropes around the necks of the two negroes were thrown over a limb and they were hoisted into eternity. The spot where they met death was on what is known as the Arkansas road, and had evidently been selected before the mob secured possession of the keys and entered the jail.

One of the first acts of the mob was to break into the courthouse, where Sheriff Thompson and Jailer Fort Edwards were detained. The two men were easily overpowered. There was an armed guard around the jail, but upon the approach of the mob it melted rapidly. No time was lost in opening the doors of the prison and entering the place. Smith and McLand were soon in the hands of the lynchers.

The prophet was the picture of abject terror, but his religious fervor did not desert him even in the face of death. As he was being led from the jail he was heard to say, "Lord you promised to be with me; be with me now."

The tree to which the men hung was a large hickory distant about one and a half miles from the jail. It was evidently the intention of Smith to make it appear that the killing of Mr. Foster was the result of a personal feeling and not the outcome of an organized conspiracy. During the course of his rambling talk the negro stated that Seely Weema, who is not yet in custody, was the negro who struck Mr. Foster with the box.

McLand said that he had nothing to do with the killing of Mr. Foster. The lynching created a sensation today, as with the excitement dying out. It was thought their lives would be spared, at least until the capture of Edwards. A special from New Orleans says that evidence discovered so clearly establishing the guilt of Smith and McLand as accessories of the murder and dangerous elements to be left at large among the negroes that the people of Bossier Parish, at their execution at the order of the preservation of order in the parish.

Lynching Will Follow.
Special to the Post-Dispatch.
Cameron, La., June 20.—It was reported here by telephone from Tracy this morning that a negro had outraged a white woman by the name of McLand, who was between Holtslaw Bridge and Lila. Great excitement exists.

The people are scouring the country for the black and if caught there will doubtless be a lynching.

GOLDEN WEDDINGS CELEBRATED

Mr. and Mrs. Russack and Mr. and Mrs. Jungling Complete 50 Years of Married Life.

Two golden weddings were celebrated in St. Louis Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Russack of 837 Lawton avenue received the congratulations of their relatives and friends upon the completion of 50 years of married life.

The house was tastefully decorated, and Mr. and Mrs. Russack were assisted in receiving by their daughters-in-law, Misses Max and Sam Russack.

Many gifts were received, among the most striking being three wreaths in gold box from Mr. and Mrs. Mike Rosenfreder.

A wreath of orange blossoms was named "thus it was," a silver wreath "thus it has been," and a golden wreath, "thus it is."

Mr. and Mrs. Russack were married in Germany, their native land.

At 202 Arsenal avenue Wednesday evening was celebrated the 50th anniversary of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Jungling.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Jungling were born in Osnabruck, Germany, but they were married until they came to America and settled in St. Louis, he preceding her two years. Their wedding occurred in the old church at Seventh street and Clark avenue.

They have three children, Mrs. C. Olsen and H. C. and P. S. Jungling. For many years Mr. Jungling was a retail grocer.

AMERICAN DIVORCE INVALID.

Important Decision Given by Judge of a Canadian Court.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
TORONTO, Ont., June 20.—An important decision was given here today by Judge Macdougall on the validity of United States divorces in Canada. In the case of John Sheppard, an arrest was made for non-support of his first wife. He showed that he had secured a divorce in the United States and held that he was under no obligations to support her. The judge held otherwise, giving judgment to the effect that American divorces shall not be valid in Canada.

Royal Arcanum's Anniversary.

A celebration of the twenty-fourth anniversary of the Royal Arcanum was held at Ramona Park Saturday, under the auspices of Chevalier Council.

Among the speakers will be former Judge Pittsford, Judge Talty, Frederick H. Bacon, H. B. Bickley, A. S. Robinson and J. E. Master.

The day will be spent in boating, dancing and athletic events. A war of foot men's race, married women's race, boys' race, girls' race, three-legged race, shoe scramble, married men's race and a voting contest for the most popular man and woman on the grounds.

The Sun Becoming Extinct.

An eminent scientist has started the world with the declaration that the heat of the sun is being exhausted. He assures us, however, that it will be many centuries before it takes place. In the meantime we should try and make the best of life and enjoy it while we have the opportunity. This, however, is impossible unless you have good health and especially a strong stomach. Use Hostetter's Stomach Bitters to keep the stomach in order and you will be happy. It cures dyspepsia, constipation, indigestion, acid digestion and keeps the bowels regular. It has been the standard medicine of the American people over fifty years. Insist on having the genuine with our Silver Reverse Stamp over the back of the bottle.

"It's a Bargain."

REMNANT DAY!

Rich bargains in broken lots of articles, short ends of goods, and some slightly soiled garments—a clean-up after a week of powerful, persistent selling.

The Friday bargain events at this store should be your first thought. Were you ever here on a Friday morning? If not, be here at the opening of the doors and enter with the crowd. See the score or more of small merchants picking up whole armfuls of remnants and other bargains. They can buy here and sell at a profit—they can buy here cheaper than at wholesale houses—that is argument enough for your patronage?

DROP
EVERYTHING
FRIDAY MORNING
AND HASTEN TO

Nugents

Upholstery Department.

Friday Bargains.

Short lengths in China and Japanese Matings at a big reduction.

50 Matings Friday for.....10c yard 50 Matings Friday for.....25c yard
50 Matings Friday for.....15c yard 50 Matings Friday for.....35c yard
An immense lot of remnants in Cretonnes, Colored Madras, White and Colored Swiss, Denims and Irish Point Sash Laces, will be closed out very cheap.

12 1/2 Cretonne Swiss Friday for 7 1/2c yd. 50 Irish Point Sash Lace Friday for.....85c yd.
150 Cretonnes Friday for.....10c yd. 50 Colored French Madras Friday for.....25c yd.
50 Denims Friday for.....10c yd. 50 Colored French Madras Friday for.....25c yd.

50 Tapestry Friday for.....25c yd. 50 Silk Tapestry Friday for.....75c yd.
50 Tapestry Friday for.....35c yd. 50 Silk Tapestry Friday for.....125c yd.
50 Tapestry Friday for.....50c yd. 50 Wool Tapestry Friday for.....150c yd.

Parasols.

Two Great Friday Bargains.

One of pretty polka dot China silk, with solid border—the other plain white center and solid border—real

50 Parasols—Friday, choice.....1.50
PARASOLS—A lot of 500 fine taffeta silk Parasols—all the latest effects—black and white, with every conceivable shade of border—also checks—made same way and hand—solid to us—and we give them out Friday—all real $3.00 styles—don't miss it—for, apiece.....2.95

No excuse for any woman carrying an unsightly parasol to protect her from the sun's rays while these last.

Broken Lots of Hosiery.

Broken lot of Children's Ribbed Hose, in black and tan color—goods that sold for 15c and 15c, Friday.....7c

Ladies' Fast Black Fashioned Hose, double soles, mostly sizes 9 and 9 1/2—3c quality, Friday.....15c

Broken lot of Men's Imported Fancy Hose—fine quality cotton—worth 35c, Friday.....15c

Broken assortment of Children's Imported Lisle Thread Hose, in tan and white—sold regularly at 50c to 60c—Friday.....15c

Several small lots of Ladies' Fancy Lisle Thread Hose—regularly 35c and 50c—Friday.....25c

Main Floor.

Gloves—Friday's Bargain—Gloves

Odd lots of Ladies' Lisle and Taffeta Gloves—white, black, fawn and slates—with button or Jersey wrists—gloves that were cheap at 50c and 40c—will be sold Friday at, per pair.....19c

Main Floor.

Children's Straw Hats.

Children's Straw Hats, trimmed with organdie

ruffles and rosette—worth 50c, Friday.....29c

Second Floor—Babies' wear counter.

Muslin Underwear.

One solid lot of Ladies' Fine Cambric Drawers, umbrella shape, trimmed with choice embroidery or Val. lace—marked 75c and 1.00—Friday at, each.....59c

One solid lot of Ladies' Gowns, embroidery trimmed, marked from 75c to 1.00—Friday.....59c

Colored Lawn Dressing Scaques, nice and cool—special Friday.....50c

Solid lot Children's White Lawn Dresses, 1, 2 and 3 years, with embroidery at neck and sleeves, sold at 50c, Friday.....35c

Second Floor.

Extraordinary Purchase

Of the Entire Stock of

Hochstadt & Wallace
836-838 BROADWAY
NEAR 13TH STREET, NEW YORK

Manufacturers of Fine

YOUNG MEN'S and BOYS' CLOTHING

Bought in at

55c ON THE DOLLAR

And will be put on sale Friday at a price less than the cost of making. It's a lucky purchase—lucky for us and lucky for you—you know we always share our good fortunes. Come early and see the entire stock—it will move rapidly, without hesitating, from our store to your home, for it is a remarkable piece of goods, correct in styles, perfect in fit—and the price offerings clinch the argument.

Every Garment Guaranteed STRICTLY ALL-WOOL by NUGENTS

Little Fellows' Vestee Suits, ages 3 to 10-H. & W. whole-sale price $1.75, Nugents' Sale Price.....98c

Little Fellows' Middy and Sailor Suits, ages 3 to 10-H. & W. whole-sale price $1.50, Nugents' Sale Price.....98c

Boys' two piece D. B. Jacket and Pants Suits, ages 3 to 10-H. & W. whole-sale price $1.50, Nugents' Sale Price.....98c

Little Fellows' Fine Vestee, Middy, Sailor and Russian Blouse Suits, blue and fancy mixed serge and chevrons, ages 3 to 10, H. & W. whole-sale price $2.00 to $4.50, Nugents' Sale Price.....1.95

Boys' two piece D. B. Jacket and Pants Suits, navy blue, and fancy mixed cheviot, all made with double breast knee, ages 3 to 10, H. & W. whole-sale price $3.00 to $4.00, Nugents' Sale Price.....1.95

Boys' two piece Double and Single Breasted Jacket and Pants Suits, ages 3 to 10, H. & W. whole-sale price $3.00 to $4.00, Nugents' Sale Price.....1.95

Boys' White Duck Sailor Suits, with one extra pair of Pants, value $2.00, sizes 3 to 10, Nugents' Sale Price.....1.25

Boys' White Duck, Double Breasted two piece Suits, sizes 7 to 15-H. & W. whole-sale price $1.50, Nugents' Sale Price.....75c

Choice of our entire stock of fine Russian Blouse Suits, sizes 3 to 6 years, worth to $1.50, Nugents' Sale Price.....2.98

Third Floor.

Bargains in Our

Great Cloak and Suit Room.

The one place where the word "bargain" is never misapplied—and withal—where the goods offered are always of the highest character, no matter how little the price.

Ladies' Waists—Percales, Lawns—blue or pink—lace trimmed, embroidery trimmed, and with tucks—all sizes to 44 bust—all new, fresh and stylishly made—all this on Friday, for.....25c

Ladies' Waists—Of fine Black and all over, were $1.50—some that are 19 1/2 bust—Friday, for, each.....75c

Ladies' Waists—A mixed lot—Waists, $2.50 and $3.00—fine Madras Waists, $1.75 and $2.75 apiece—sleeves all large, 38 to 44 bust—about twelve styles—your choice for, apiece.....1.25

Ladies' Waists—Of fine China Silk and back of fine side pleats—solid black or pure white—32 to 46 bust—$1.00 ones—sold Friday for.....2.98

Ladies' Shirt Waist Suits—Of plain Chambray and Organdie Lawns—with blouse skirt—some sailor collar styles—some surplice effects—also nicely trimmed—all sizes—pink, blue or helix—real gaiter morning or picnic dress for just, the suit.....2.50

(The best thing you ever will see for the money.)

Ladies' Separate Skirts—New dainty Flare Skirts, of good washable polka dot—solid black or solid white—On Friday, each.....75c

Ladies' Separate Skirts—Of fine White Pique—made with flare flounce and good insertion above—44 to 50—Friday for.....1.98

Ladies' Separate Skirts—We can hardly describe these—we gathered them up of the different tables, where only a few of a style remained. This is what they represent: Broadcloth, Cheviots, Serges, Sicilians and Homespun Cloth—colors black, blue, gray, tan—these are the prices on the tickets: $2.75, $2.50, $2.25, $2.00 (a lot), $1.50 (a few), $1.25 (quite a number)—and all are to be sold Friday.....3.75

Ladies' House Gowns—Of Wrappers—made of good Lawn—pretty colors—pretty patterns—deep flounce—ruffles on shoulders—braided in white—full waist lining—finished arm holes—seams cut generously full through hips—and altogether, as Nogens' are always made, just right, regardless of the price. These were made to retail at $1.50, any size up to 44 bust can be had for, each.....65c

Ladies' Wash Suits—Linen Crash years—to go at.....75c

Ladies' Bath Robes—No woman should be without one who can come here Friday—it's a summer article, especially called "The Terry" Bath Robe—of beautiful Oriental-colored Turkish Toweling—some have large hoods—until now they've always been $3.00 each—we make them for, Friday.....1.98

Children's Wash Dresses—Pretty Chambray, Percale and Lawn Dresses for tots up to 4 years old—dainty as can be—cut full, as pure always are, a table piled high with them—this way—those (all of them) that were $1.50, to be sold for.....75c

Those that were $2.00, to be sold for 50c

Girls' Wash Suits—Of blue, gray or natural Real Linen—with great big fancy sailor suits—Friday, for, each.....2.50

Girls' Wash Dress—Of one piece good Lawn—4 to 12 years—made of $2.00 ones—for.....95c

Girls' Wash Dress—Of plain pinks, blues, grays—with lot of embroidery—sizes 4 to 12—$2.50 ones, to be sold for.....1.25

Great Lots of...

Laces and Embroideries

Will Go Very Cheap.

Also closing out small lots of Laces and Embroideries and Ladies' Neckwear—many at less than half price.

100 Point d'Esprit Lace for.....5c yd. 150 Duchesse Lace for.....10c yd.

150 Point d'Esprit Lace for.....7 1/2c yd. 100 Chantilly Lace for.....15c yd.

200 Point d'Esprit Lace for.....14c yd. 100 Cluny Lace for.....15c yd.

200 Oriental Lace for.....8c yd. 100 Cluny Lace for.....15c yd.

200 Oriental Lace for.....10c yd. 200 Cluny Lace for.....15c yd.

100 Duchesse Lace for.....5c yd. 200 Cluny Lace for.....15c yd.

100 Duchesse Lace for.....7c yd. 200 Cluny Lace for.....15c yd.

Lace Allogers.

For Yoking, Waists, Etc.

50c Duchesse Allover for.....50c yard 1.00 Duchesse Allover for.....65c yard

50c Striped Valenciennes Allover for.....55c yard 1.00 Oriental Allover for.....65c yard

1.00 Point d'Esprit Allover for.....65c yard

Embroidery Flouncings

For Ladies' Skirts and Children's Dresses (6 to 12 inches wide)—

25c Flouncings for.....15c yard 40c Flouncings for.....25c yard

30c Flouncings for.....20c yard 50c Flouncings for.....35c yard

Lot of Cambric and Nainsook Insertings

For Shirt Waists

10c Insertings for.....5c yard 20c Insertings for.....15c yard

18c Insertings for.....10c yard

Small Lot of Very Fine Allogers, Embroideries, Swiss Cambric and Nainsook.

2 1/2 inch wide

$1.50 Allogers for.....95c yard $1.25 Allogers for.....75c yard

2 1/2 inch wide

And These Are To Be Had in Basement.

Two lots of Swiss, Nainsook and Cambric Embroideries, also Oriental, Gimpure and Cluny Laces, worth 10c, 15c and 15c.

All go on Friday at 5c per yard, and balance of great lot of Swiss, Nainsook and Cambric Embroideries, worth 30c, 50c, 60c, 70c, 80c, 90c, 1.00, 1.25, 1.50, 2.00, 2.50, 3.00, 3.50, 4.00, 4.50, 5.00, 5.50, 6.00, 6.50, 7.00, 7.50, 8.00, 8.50, 9.00, 9.50, 10.00, 10.50, 11.00, 11.50, 12.00, 12.50, 13.00, 13.50, 14.00, 14.50, 15.00, 15.50, 16.00, 16.50, 17.00, 17.50, 18.00, 18.50, 19.00, 19.50, 20.00, 20.50, 21.00, 21.50, 22.00, 22.50, 23.00, 23.50, 24.00, 24.50, 25.00, 25.50, 26.00, 26.50, 27.00, 27.50, 28.00, 28.50, 29.00, 29.50, 30.00, 30.50, 31.00, 31.50, 32.00, 32.50, 33.00, 33.50, 34.00, 34.50, 35.00, 35.50, 36.00, 36.50, 37.00, 37.50, 38.00, 38.50, 39.00, 39.50, 40.00, 40.50, 41.00, 41.50, 42.00, 42.50, 43.00, 43.50, 44.00, 44.50, 45.00, 45.50, 46.00, 46.50, 47.00, 47.50, 48.00, 48.50, 49.00, 49.50, 50.00, 50.50, 51.00, 51.50, 52.00, 52.50, 53.00, 53.50, 54.00, 54.50, 55.00, 55.50, 56.00, 56.50, 57.00, 57.50, 58.00, 58.50, 59.00, 59.50, 60.00, 60.50, 61.00, 61.50, 62.00, 62.50, 63.00, 63.50, 64.00, 64.50, 65.00, 65.50, 66.00, 66.50, 67.00, 67.50, 68.00, 68.50, 69.00, 69.50, 70.00, 70.50, 71.00, 71.50, 72.00, 72.50, 73.00, 73.50, 74.00, 74.50, 75.00, 75.50, 76.00, 76.50, 77.00, 77.50, 78.00, 78.50, 79.00, 79.50, 80.00, 80.50, 81.00, 81.50, 82.00, 82.50, 83.00, 83.50, 84.00, 84.50, 85.00, 85.50, 86.00, 86.50, 87.00, 87.50, 88.00, 88.50, 89.00, 89.50, 90.00, 90.50, 91.00, 91.50, 92.00, 92.50, 93.00, 93.50, 94.00, 94.50, 95.00, 95.50, 96.00, 96.50, 97.00, 97.50, 98.00, 98.50, 99.00, 99.50, 100.00, 100.50, 101.00, 101.50, 102.00, 102.50, 103.00, 103.50, 104.00, 104.50, 105.00, 105.50, 106.00, 106.50, 107.00, 107.50, 108.00, 108.50, 109.00, 109.50, 110.00, 110.50, 111.00, 111.50, 112.00, 112.50, 113.00, 113.50, 114.00, 114.50, 115.00, 115.50, 116.00, 116.50, 117.00, 117.50, 118.00, 118.50, 119.00, 119.50, 120.00, 120.50, 121.00, 121.50, 122.00, 122.50, 123.00, 123.50, 124.00, 124.50, 125.00, 125.50, 126.00, 126.50, 127.00, 127.50, 128.00, 128.50, 129.00, 129.50, 130.00, 130.50, 131.00, 131.50, 132.00, 132.50, 133.00, 133.50, 134.00, 134.50, 135.00, 135.50, 136.00, 136.50, 137.00, 137.50, 138.00, 138.50, 139.00, 139.50, 140.00, 140.50, 141.00, 141.50, 142.00, 142.50, 143.00, 143.50, 144.00, 144.50, 145.00, 145.50, 146.00, 146.50, 147.00, 147.50, 148.00, 148.50, 149.00, 149.50, 150.00, 150.50, 151.00, 151.50, 152.00, 152.50, 153.00, 153.50, 154.00, 154.50, 155.00, 155.50, 156.00, 156.50, 157.00, 157.50, 158.00, 158.50, 159.00, 159.50, 160.00, 160.50, 161.00, 161.50, 162.00, 162.50, 163.00, 163.50, 164.00, 164.50, 165.00, 165.50, 166.00, 166.50, 167.00, 167.50, 168.00, 168.50, 169.00, 169.50, 170.00, 170.50, 171.

From Portland, Maine
to Portland, Oregon

Hunter Baltimore Rye

is the Best Known Whiskey

It is THE FIRST SOUGHT
and
THE FIRST BOUGHT

David Nicholson, St. Louis, Mo.

Big Bargains in Beautiful Books

By the Greatest English and American Authors.
Artistic embossed cloth binding, fully copyrighted—from the original plates of the $1.25 to $1.50 editions—fresh from the printer—now offered at the extraordinary low price of—
25c
Per Copy.

For Our Summer Readers

Here is the list now ready for distribution at a quarter each:

1. "BONAVENTURE," By George W. Cable.
2. "A PURITAN'S WIFE," By Max Pemberton.
3. "AMERICAN WIVES AND ENGLISH HUSBANDS," By Mrs. Atterton.
4. "THE GREAT K. & A. TRAIN ROBBERY," By Paul Leicester Ford.
5. "THE RUDDER - GRANGERS ABROAD," By Frank R. Stockton.
6. "I, THOU AND THE OTHER ONE," By Amelia E. Barr.
7. "TALES OF OUR COAST," By Crockett, Parker, Russell and others.
8. "SIMON DALE," By Anthony Hope.

SACRIFICED UNDER THE HAMMER!

Diamonds, Watches, Silverwares, Etc.,

AT AUCTION!

Ask any one who has attended about the wonderful bargains—The finest, choicest goods at half first cost and less—The time is now limited and shrewd buyers are taking advantage of opportunities never offered in America before.

A SALE WITHOUT PRECEDENT!

The Merrick, Walsh & Phelps and E. Jaccard Jewelry Cos.' entire stocks must be converted into cash at whatever prices they will bring. The highest bidder fixes the price. (Every article guaranteed by the Merrick & Jaccard Jewelry Co.)

Sales Daily at 10 A. M. to 6 P. M.

OLIVE AND SIXTH STS.

DIVERTING TWO RIVERS

Plans Started to Tunnel a Mountain to Send the Gunnison River
Into New Channels.

WASHINGTON, June 20.—Acting under the general directions of Chief Hydrographer Newell, geological survey parties have just begun work in the Gunnison river valley in western Colorado, near Montrose, which looks to diverting the river by means of a great tunnel through a mountain range into a dry and fertile valley. Another party has begun the preliminary work of diverting St. Mary's river into the Milk river valley in Montana.

JUST LIKE PHILIPPINES.

Colombian Government Says Revolution Is Over in Spite of Everything.
WASHINGTON, June 20.—Dr. Martinez Silva, the minister from Colombia, has received dispatches from the capital of Colombia which he regards as setting at rest the reports that the Colombian revolutionists are again in strong force around Panama. The minister's dispatches state that the uprising has been entirely stamped out with the exception of a few small and scattered bands operating in the neighborhood of Panama. The bands are said to have no strength in Panama City, but their guerrilla tactics in the neighborhood account for the alleged trouble experienced by Americans and other parties. In the view of the Colombian government the revolution is actually at an end and the bands around Panama are treated as a part of the guerrilla movement like that going on in the Philippines.

DRUGGISTS ELECT OFFICERS.

St. Louis Man at Head of the State Pharmacological Association.
Special to the Post-Dispatch.
WARRENSBURG, Mo., June 20.—At a meeting of the Missouri State Pharmacological Association, now in session at Pettie Springs, this city, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Dr. Otto F. Claus, St. Louis; first vice-president, R. L. Hope, Centralia; second vice-president, W. B. Kerns, Bunce; third vice-president, H. C. Weaver, Windsor; treasurer, William Mittelbach, Roomville; permanent secretary, Dr. H. M. Whelpley, St. Louis; assistant secretary, John Unbright, Liberal.
The druggists closed their meeting with an informal ball last night. Today the Travelers' Association is in charge. They have a parade today, headed by the Seaside and

ONE TRANSFER GIVEN An Ideal Medicine.

THAT IS LIMIT OF ABBREVIATED CHANNING AVENUE.

MR. GRANT IS AUTHORITY

Although Very Short, It Is a Division, and Its Conductors Can't Issue Transfers on Transfers.

If sapient Socrates were here, No doubt he'd understand Most modern things with vision clear As any in the land; But here's a bit of wisdom knock The underpinning out from him: In spite of all his wondrous wisdom— And that's the strangest of transfer systems!

"Widened" and "system" don't exactly rhyme; Neither do transfers transfer every time. Since the Channing avenue street car division was abandoned and the cars on Channing avenue run only from Laclede avenue to the corner of Grand and Cook avenues, many persons have asked the Post-Dispatch whether or not conductors are authorized to issue double transfers to and from this line. General Manager Grant tells the Post-Dispatch that no conductors are so authorized. This question was put to him. "Suppose that a passenger boarding a Channing avenue car at Washington and Channing avenues, and getting a transfer to the Laclede avenue car at Channing and Laclede avenue conductor for a transfer to the Broadway line. Is the conductor authorized to give the transfer?" "He is not," replied Mr. Grant. "The passenger should take the Washington avenue line downtown, getting his Broadway transfer from that line. The Washington avenue car at Channing and Laclede avenues cross the Channing avenue line. Both these lines transfer to others." No conductors are authorized to give a second transfer to any passenger who wishes to change to the Channing avenue line.

WINDSTORM AT BOONVILLE.

One Man Killed, Nine Injured and Much Damage Done.
BOONVILLE, Mo., June 20.—The elements worked destruction here last night and brought death to one man. At 6:45 last night a heavy wind storm, accompanied by sheets of blinding rain, swept over the city. To be killed in the main street by the falling walls of a large brick two-story building. The roof was blown off the Sombarts mill, the Commercial Bank and many residences. A large brick foundry near river front was completely destroyed. Hundreds of trees were destroyed. Many small craft on the river front were blown adrift. The heaviest loser is the Bell Telephone Co., whose exchange is almost completely destroyed. The local exchange was also damaged. One death has been reported and nine injured. The wind was from the northwest and followed the river. Three inches of rain fell in less than twenty minutes.

MR. FRICK AS A SCIENTIST.

He and His Son Have Gone to Europe for Carnegie Museum.
NEW YORK, June 20.—Henry C. Frick has become interested in scientific projects through his son, and when he sailed on the Oceanic with his family it was for a scientific object. In his new role he becomes a patron of the Carnegie Museum in Pittsburgh. The plan which he is backing is to be carried out by his son, Childs Frick, 18 years, and Frederick S. Webster, head of the department of taxonomy of the Carnegie Museum, who also sailed on the Oceanic. Young Frick and Mr. Webster will remain abroad three months. During the first two months they will visit noted museums in Europe, paying special attention to the British museum in London and the Imperial museum at Berlin, to secure new ideas to be put into practice at the Carnegie institution. The third month Childs Frick and Mr. Webster will spend in looking for game in Scotland. In the interests of the Carnegie Museum, H. C. Frick has secured privileges in several of the best preserves in that country. These such specimens will be procured as cannot be found in the Pittsburgh museum. Druggists sell Stuart's Catarrh Tablets at 50 cents for full sized package. They can be carried in the pocket and used any time and as often as desired since they contain no cocaine, mercury or any other injurious drug.

LITTLE GIRL WAS ABANDONED

Little Emma Lyon Ruth Briggs, 8 years old, who was abandoned Wednesday night at Union Station, and who was found asleep on the floor of the second-class waiting room.

Emma Lyon Ruth Briggs, Eight Years Old, Was Deserted at Union Station and Can Tell but Little of Herself.

Emma Lyon Ruth Briggs, 8 years old, was found in the second class waiting room at Union Station at 10 o'clock Wednesday night asleep on the floor, with a small bundle of clothes for a pillow. W. M. Ryan, a terminal attaché, who found the child, awoke her. In reply to questions she said: "My step-mamma and step-father brought me down here and said she would never see me any more." "I don't know where they are. They brought me to St. Louis from Dahlgren and and I never knew what street we lived on." Little Emma is a bright-eyed, rosy-cheeked child, with flaxen hair that hangs down her shoulders. She is a native of Dahlgren, Va., and her mother, Mrs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she was placed in Matron Kintling's care at the Four Courts. Her father died, she didn't know how long ago, in the swamps. She didn't know what swamps they were. His name, she said, was Nat Briggs. W. M. Ryan, who found the child asleep, got lunch for her and cared for her until morning, when he placed her in charge of Matron Hunter at Union Station. Mrs. Hunter, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, turned her over to the police and she

SPORTING NEWS

CURRENT BASEBALL COMMENT.

STANDING OF THE CLUBS

Prior to Thursday's Games.

Club.	W.	L.	Pct.
Pittsburgh	28	15	.652
St. Louis	27	16	.625
Philadelphia	26	17	.605
Cincinnati	25	18	.581
Boston	24	19	.558
Cleveland	23	20	.532
Chicago	22	21	.514
Washington	21	22	.488
St. Paul	20	23	.462
San Francisco	19	24	.438
Brooklyn	18	25	.414
Indianapolis	17	26	.390
Portland	16	27	.366
San Diego	15	28	.342
Omaha	14	29	.318
Des Moines	13	30	.294
Sioux Falls	12	31	.270
Rockford	11	32	.246
Peoria	10	33	.222
Springfield	9	34	.198
Wichita	8	35	.174
Lawrence	7	36	.150
Emporia	6	37	.126
St. Joseph	5	38	.102
Leavenworth	4	39	.078
Atchafalpa	3	40	.054
Yankton	2	41	.030
Sioux City	1	42	.006

Club.	W.	L.	Pct.
Chicago	28	15	.652
St. Louis	27	16	.625
Philadelphia	26	17	.605
Cincinnati	25	18	.581
Boston	24	19	.558
Cleveland	23	20	.532
Washington	22	21	.514
St. Paul	21	22	.488
San Francisco	20	23	.462
Brooklyn	19	24	.438
Indianapolis	18	25	.414
Portland	17	26	.390
San Diego	16	27	.366
Omaha	15	28	.342
Des Moines	14	29	.318
Sioux Falls	13	30	.294
Rockford	12	31	.270
Peoria	11	32	.246
Springfield	10	33	.222
Wichita	9	34	.198
Lawrence	8	35	.174
Emporia	7	36	.150
St. Joseph	6	37	.126
Leavenworth	5	38	.102
Atchafalpa	4	39	.078
Yankton	3	40	.054
Sioux City	2	41	.030

Club.	W.	L.	Pct.
Chicago	28	15	.652
St. Louis	27	16	.625
Philadelphia	26	17	.605
Cincinnati	25	18	.581
Boston	24	19	.558
Cleveland	23	20	.532
Washington	22	21	.514
St. Paul	21	22	.488
San Francisco	20	23	.462
Brooklyn	19	24	.438
Indianapolis	18	25	.414
Portland	17	26	.390
San Diego	16	27	.366
Omaha	15	28	.342
Des Moines	14	29	.318
Sioux Falls	13	30	.294
Rockford	12	31	.270
Peoria	11	32	.246
Springfield	10	33	.222
Wichita	9	34	.198
Lawrence	8	35	.174
Emporia	7	36	.150
St. Joseph	6	37	.126
Leavenworth	5	38	.102
Atchafalpa	4	39	.078
Yankton	3	40	.054
Sioux City	2	41	.030

Club.	W.	L.	Pct.
Chicago	28	15	.652
St. Louis	27	16	.625
Philadelphia	26	17	.605
Cincinnati	25	18	.581
Boston	24	19	.558
Cleveland	23	20	.532
Washington	22	21	.514
St. Paul	21	22	.488
San Francisco	20	23	.462
Brooklyn	19	24	.438
Indianapolis	18	25	.414
Portland	17	26	.390
San Diego	16	27	.366
Omaha	15	28	.342
Des Moines	14	29	.318
Sioux Falls	13	30	.294
Rockford	12	31	.270
Peoria	11	32	.246
Springfield	10	33	.222
Wichita	9	34	.198
Lawrence	8	35	.174
Emporia	7	36	.150
St. Joseph	6	37	.126
Leavenworth	5	38	.102
Atchafalpa	4	39	.078
Yankton	3	40	.054
Sioux City	2	41	.030

The unexpected again happened to the St. Louis baseball team in the game with Philadelphia Wednesday.

Bert Jones won.

Tradition does not say when Jones last won a game.

The win is most acceptable and Jones must be given credit for having done that which he has hitherto this season failed to accomplish—avoided an aerial ascension.

Jones can corkscrow curves—no one ever questioned that.

He has the choicest assortment of spine torturers and neck twisters of any box artist on the team.

In practice he can wind the ball around the mighty Burkett and make the latter forget whether the pitcher is accustomed to throw three or six balls at a time.

He even makes the catcher forget where the ball is expected to come.

But in a game Bert pitches to a mirage that is expected in the air.

He is unable to locate the batter, for the most part while the batter has little difficulty in finding him.

Furthermore, in a game his brains appear to retire into his system and quit work for the time being.

Bert fields his position as enthusiastically, but about as successfully, as Pido in backyard.

Bert has been dodging the hoodoo all season without having been able to hide from it and it has somewhat taken the temper out of his metabolism.

The fact that Wednesday he had curves, speed, control and nerve all at once indicates that Jones' time has come.

It is for the sake of the team as well as for his own that he is so anxious to win.

The win will doubtless give him confidence, which is a large part of a contest.

An analysis of the game Wednesday shows a fair for Jones. Two runs were made on him of nine hits and two bases on balls.

He also struck out two of the Quakers.

This is by no means a bad record, and the way Jones kept his cool and practically won with most games, with the fast Cardinals to help out.

St. Louis made six runs off Donahue on 11 hits, 1 base on balls and 2 errors.

Jones' game, like that of the Cardinals, was a single by Delahanty.

At two times through the game, though they had men on bases frequently, Jones was too steady and kept the hits well scattered.

The Cardinals played their usual excellent fielding game and hit the ball fairly hard, becoming to the best, with four hits and one for two bases.

He and Nichols succeeded in stealing two bases, but the latter was caught by a pair of safeties. Heldrick secured but one.

The uncertainty of baseball is well illustrated by the recent shifting of the various teams in the National League.

Teams have shifted painfully and unexpectedly from one place to another, and the latter: others have shot down it with disheartening rapidity.

Changes, too, are still in Chicago alone according to the latest anchored in last place.

St. Louis was at the top once this season, but sank to the bottom rapidly and is now on the rebound, in third place and still rising.

Cincinnati earned the disgust of its home fans by exploding, as was anticipated, and descending to last place, with four hits and one for two bases.

HOLY NAMES TRIUMPH

THEY WIN POST-DISPATCH PAROCHIAL CHAMPIONSHIP.

TEN VICTORIES WERE THEIRS

Pitcher John Walsh Participated in All of Them and His Work Was Excellent.

WEDNESDAY'S RESULTS.

PUBLIC SCHOOL. Cote Brillante, 13; Laseela, 12.

PAROCHIAL LEAGUE. Holy Name vs. St. Rose; forfeited to Holy Name.

THURSDAY'S SCHEDULE. School grounds. Dozier vs. Cote Brillante, 9:30 p. m.

FRIDAY'S SCHEDULE. School grounds. Monroe vs. Dozier.

AMERICAN LEAGUE. St. Louis at Philadelphia.

AMERICAN LEAGUE. St. Louis at Philadelphia.

AMERICAN LEAGUE. St. Louis at Philadelphia.

AMERICAN LEAGUE. St. Louis at Philadelphia.

AMERICAN LEAGUE. St. Louis at Philadelphia.

AMERICAN LEAGUE. St. Louis at Philadelphia.

AMERICAN LEAGUE. St. Louis at Philadelphia.

AMERICAN LEAGUE. St. Louis at Philadelphia.

AMERICAN LEAGUE. St. Louis at Philadelphia.

AMERICAN LEAGUE. St. Louis at Philadelphia.

AMERICAN LEAGUE. St. Louis at Philadelphia.

AMERICAN LEAGUE. St. Louis at Philadelphia.

AMERICAN LEAGUE. St. Louis at Philadelphia.

AMERICAN LEAGUE. St. Louis at Philadelphia.

AMERICAN LEAGUE. St. Louis at Philadelphia.

AMERICAN LEAGUE. St. Louis at Philadelphia.

AMERICAN LEAGUE. St. Louis at Philadelphia.

AMERICAN LEAGUE. St. Louis at Philadelphia.

AMERICAN LEAGUE. St. Louis at Philadelphia.

AMERICAN LEAGUE. St. Louis at Philadelphia.

AMERICAN LEAGUE. St. Louis at Philadelphia.

AMERICAN LEAGUE. St. Louis at Philadelphia.

AMERICAN LEAGUE. St. Louis at Philadelphia.

AMERICAN LEAGUE. St. Louis at Philadelphia.

AMERICAN LEAGUE. St. Louis at Philadelphia.

AMERICAN LEAGUE. St. Louis at Philadelphia.

AMERICAN LEAGUE. St. Louis at Philadelphia.

AMERICAN LEAGUE. St. Louis at Philadelphia.

AMERICAN LEAGUE. St. Louis at Philadelphia.

AMERICAN LEAGUE. St. Louis at Philadelphia.

AMERICAN LEAGUE. St. Louis at Philadelphia.

AMERICAN LEAGUE. St. Louis at Philadelphia.

AMERICAN LEAGUE. St. Louis at Philadelphia.

AMERICAN LEAGUE. St. Louis at Philadelphia.

AMERICAN LEAGUE. St. Louis at Philadelphia.

AMERICAN LEAGUE. St. Louis at Philadelphia.

AMERICAN LEAGUE. St. Louis at Philadelphia.

AMERICAN LEAGUE. St. Louis at Philadelphia.

AMERICAN LEAGUE. St. Louis at Philadelphia.

AMERICAN LEAGUE. St. Louis at Philadelphia.

AMERICAN LEAGUE. St. Louis at Philadelphia.

AMERICAN LEAGUE. St. Louis at Philadelphia.

AMERICAN LEAGUE. St. Louis at Philadelphia.

AMERICAN LEAGUE. St. Louis at Philadelphia.

AMERICAN LEAGUE. St. Louis at Philadelphia.

AMERICAN LEAGUE. St. Louis at Philadelphia.

AMERICAN LEAGUE. St. Louis at Philadelphia.

AMERICAN LEAGUE. St. Louis at Philadelphia.

AMERICAN LEAGUE. St. Louis at Philadelphia.

AMERICAN LEAGUE. St. Louis at Philadelphia.

AMERICAN LEAGUE. St. Louis at Philadelphia.

GREAT SAMPLE SHOE SALE.

We have just purchased from P. Hagerty's Son & Co., Cincinnati, O., one of the largest shoe manufacturers in the world, 40 cases of sample shoes and Oxford shoes of every shape or kind that is made. They are to go on sale Friday morning in two lots, as follows:

All Ladies' $3.00, $2.50 and $2.00. One case Ladies' one-strap Slippers, regular 70c. $1.39

All Ladies' $2.00, $1.50, $1.00 and $0.50. One case Ladies' one-strap Slippers, regular 40c. $0.95

All Ladies' $1.00, $0.50, $0.25 and $0.10. One case Ladies' one-strap Slippers, regular 20c. $0.49

All Ladies' $0.50, $0.25, $0.10 and $0.05. One case Ladies' one-strap Slippers, regular 10c. $0.25

All Ladies' $0.25, $0.10, $0.05 and $0.02. One case Ladies' one-strap Slippers, regular 5c. $0.12

All Ladies' $0.10, $0.05, $0.02 and $0.01. One case Ladies' one-strap Slippers, regular 2c. $0.05

All Ladies' $0.05, $0.02, $0.01 and $0.00. One case Ladies' one-strap Slippers, regular 1c. $0.02

All Ladies' $0.02, $0.01, $0.00 and $0.00. One case Ladies' one-strap Slippers, regular 0c. $0.00

All Ladies' $0.01, $0.00, $0.00 and $0.00. One case Ladies' one-strap Slippers, regular 0c. $0.00

All Ladies' $0.00, $0.00, $0.00 and $0.00. One case Ladies' one-strap Slippers, regular 0c. $0.00

All Ladies' $0.00, $0.00, $0.00 and $0.00. One case Ladies' one-strap Slippers, regular 0c. $0.00

All Ladies' $0.00, $0.00, $0.00 and $0.00. One case Ladies' one-strap Slippers, regular 0c. $0.00

All Ladies' $0.00, $0.00, $0.00 and $0.00. One case Ladies' one-strap Slippers, regular 0c. $0.00

All Ladies' $0.00, $0.00, $0.00 and $0.00. One case Ladies' one-strap Slippers, regular 0c. $0.00

All Ladies' $0.00, $0.00, $0.00 and $0.00. One case Ladies' one-strap Slippers, regular 0c. $0.00

All Ladies' $0.00, $0.00, $0.00 and $0.00. One case Ladies' one-strap Slippers, regular 0c. $0.00

All Ladies' $0.00, $0.00, $0.00 and $0.00. One case Ladies' one-strap Slippers, regular 0c. $0.00

All Ladies' $0.00, $0.00, $0.00 and $0.00. One case Ladies' one-strap Slippers, regular 0c. $0.00

All Ladies' $0.00, $0.00, $0.00 and $0.00. One case Ladies' one-strap Slippers, regular 0c. $0.00

All Ladies' $0.00, $0.00, $0.00 and $0.00. One case Ladies' one-strap Slippers, regular 0c. $0.00

All Ladies' $0.00, $0.00, $0.00 and $0.00. One case Ladies' one-strap Slippers, regular 0c. $0.00

All Ladies' $0.00, $0.00, $0.00 and $0.00. One case Ladies' one-strap Slippers, regular 0c. $0.00

All Ladies' $0.00, $0.00, $0.00 and $0.00. One case Ladies' one-strap Slippers, regular 0c. $0.00

All Ladies' $0.00, $0.00, $0.00 and $0.00. One case Ladies' one-strap Slippers, regular 0c. $0.00

All Ladies' $0.00, $0.00, $0.00 and $0.00. One case Ladies' one-strap Slippers, regular 0c. $0.00

All Ladies' $0.00, $0.00, $0.00 and $0.00. One case Ladies' one-strap Slippers, regular 0c. $0.00

All Ladies' $0.00, $0.00, $0.00 and $0.00. One case Ladies' one-strap Slippers, regular 0c. $0.00

All Ladies' $0.00, $0.00, $0.00 and $0.00. One case Ladies' one-strap Slippers, regular 0c. $0.00

All Ladies' $0.00, $0.00, $0.00 and $0.00. One case Ladies' one-strap Slippers, regular 0c. $0.00

All Ladies' $0.00, $0.00, $0.00 and $0.00. One case Ladies' one-strap Slippers, regular 0c. $0.00

All Ladies' $0.00, $0.00, $0.00 and $0.00. One case Ladies' one-strap Slippers, regular 0c. $0.00

All Ladies' $0.00, $0.00, $0.00 and $0.00. One case Ladies' one-strap Slippers, regular 0c. $0.00

All Ladies' $0.00, $0.00, $0.00 and $0.00. One case Ladies' one-strap Slippers, regular 0c. $0.00

All Ladies' $0.00, $0.00, $0.00 and $0.00. One case Ladies' one-strap Slippers, regular 0c. $0.00

All Ladies' $0.00, $0.00, $0.00 and $0.00. One case Ladies' one-strap Slippers, regular 0c. $0.00

All Ladies' $0.00, $0.00, $0.00 and $0.00. One case Ladies' one-strap Slippers, regular 0c. $0.00

All Ladies' $0.00, $0.00, $0.00 and $0.00. One case Ladies' one-strap Slippers, regular 0c. $0.00

All Ladies' $0.00, $0.00, $0.00 and $0.00. One case Ladies' one-strap Slippers, regular 0c. $0.00

All Ladies' $0.00, $0.00, $0.00 and $0.00. One case Ladies' one-strap Slippers, regular 0c. $0.00

All Ladies' $0.00, $0.00, $0.00 and $0.00. One case Ladies' one-strap Slippers, regular 0c. $0.00

All Ladies' $0.00, $0.00, $0.00 and $0.00. One case Ladies' one-strap Slippers, regular 0c. $0.00

All Ladies' $

